WOVEN FABRIC

The Orari is a coarsely woven fabric with a soft yet firm feel. The fabric features a subtle color nuance and a coarse weave pattern. Orari is made of 94% polyester and 6% nylon. With a Martindale rating of 60,000, the fabric is suitable for heavy residential use. Orari is known for its excellent colorfastness and is resistant to pilling.

MAINTENANCE

The Orari coarsely woven fabric requires gentle maintenance. In case of stains, it is recommended to blot with a lightly damp, clean cloth. Rubbing may cause changes in the nap of the fabric. This fabric has been treated with Teflon Fabric Protector. This treatment forms a protective layer around each fiber, making the fabric resistant to splashes, dirt, and dust. For this reason, additional impregnation is not necessary.

VELVET

The Loma velvet fabric exudes a luxurious appearance. The fabric feels soft to the touch and has a beautiful, subtly matte sheen. Loma washed velvet is made of 80% polyester and 20% cotton, offering a full and heavy quality. This makes the material suitable for heavy use (Martindale 100,000). The velvet fabric is resistant to pilling but is sensitive to light and prolonged exposure may cause some fading.

MAINTENANCE

Remove small stains by blotting them with an absorbent cloth. Larger stains can be cleaned with a mild cleaning solution and a microfiber cloth. You can speed up drying with a hairdryer, but keep a safe distance to prevent damage. Afterwards, brush the fabric with a velvet brush. For long-lasting protection, the fabric can be treated with a textile protector.
